School – Hemmana
Lebanon

Regarding the training, it was very nice and interactive. They told us about the program; how to give a session and integrate it with our Lebanese program. Also they told us about evaluation; how to assess our students and make a thorough examination which includes all the sections with a proper use of action verbs. They also talked about how we can prepare our students to think about acquiring the 21st century skills.

In addition, they talked about how we can teach them to work on a project that requires a cooperation between teachers from all fields.

On the practical level in the classroom, it was easy to apply what we learned and explain as we were supposed to do during the periods of biology teaching that we have. It was a success and students participated well in the exercises and activities. They also watched the videos and commented on what they saw.

Unfortunately, because of the coronavirus pandemic, we couldn't follow through with the project to see if we can finish it on time. Sometimes some lessons took more time to finish than expected but we managed nonetheless.

Regarding the evaluation process, we made exams as we talked about in the training and they went well.

This is a great opportunity for the students and teachers at the same time. Teachers can develop their skills and students can work more on a practical level on subjects related to their curriculum.
